

Dear friends at the FCC:

Please do not allow the telemarketing industry to succeed in weakening New Jersey's new consumer protection law. Our household is infinitely more pleasant since the "do not call" registry came into being. This registry has allowed us to enjoy family dinners and family leisure time without annoying phone calls from strangers. The people who sign up for this registry are extremely unlikely to buy anything from a telemarketer, anyway.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Margaret Telscher
